Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 24.—The mystery surrounding the exhumation of the body of Mrs. Robert W. Bingham, formerly Mrs. Henry W. Flagler, was cleared up in a measure to-day by statements made by Graham Kenan, a local attorney, and a coustn and brotherin-law of the late Mrs. Bingham, and by Dr. Charles T. Nesbitt, county health officer. Mr. Kenan said that the body had been exhumed and that an autopsy had been exhumed and that an autopsy had been performed by six specialists. Dr. Nesbitt for the first time publicly announced that he had given a permit last Monday for the exhumation.

Developments are now awaited in the form of a report by chemists who will make the analysis in New York, where the viscera, it is understood, has been May Eliminate Luxuries.

There are rumors that action may be taken against those responsible for the exhumation of the body of Mrs. Bingham. Judge George Harris of the county court, telephoned from his vacation place that he would come to the city to-morrow and start an investigation to demorrow and start an investigation to de-termine if there has been any violation of the law.

EFFORTS TO BRIBE.

Two Nurses in Bingham Case Approached, It Is Said. Special Despatch to THE SUN.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 24.—Is there to be a three or four cornered fight for the $70,000,000 estate left by Mrs. Robert W. Bingham, formerly Mrs. Henry M. Flagler? That question is being asked on all sides in Kentucky, and a report has come from New York that all is not well among the chief beneficiaries of the colonial fortune.

well among the chief beneficiaries of the colossal fortune.

This report gains strength from the fact that in a despatch from Lockport, N. Y., William Kenan is quoted as saying that he knew nothing of the secret exhumation of his sister's body. If that despatch is dependable it is expected that some extremely interesting facts will be brought before the public.

Another matter of great interest in Kentucky concerns the identity of the persons who employed men to rob the

Another matter of great interest in Kentucky concerns the identity of the persons who employed men to rob the office of Dr. M. L. Ravitch last week. The fact that the secret operators, who came to Louisville under the employment of some one working in the dark, did not hesitate to commit a felony in the hope of getting evidence has aroused the whole State.

Judge Bingham's attorneys take the stand that they have nothing to conceal and that they have nothing to conceal and that they are prepared to meet any issue that may be raised.

Miss Eva Mueller and Miss E. Wise were the trained nurses who attended Mrs. Bingham during her fatal illness. It is said that attempts have been made to bribe the two nurses, and that even certain physicians have been approached. The narcotics administered to Mrs. Bingham during her last illness, it is said, were only similar in kind and portion to those ordinarily used by physicians to lessen suffering and attimulate heart action.

Dr. Norris is understood to be acting as a private physician for the Kanan family. William R. Kanan was a brother to Mrs. Bingham. The case is regarded as strictly private.

Dr. George O'Hanlon, superintendent of Bellevue, mid he had no knowledge that the analysis in question was being carried on in the hospital. It was entirely regular, he said, for physicians connected with Bellevue to do private work in the laboratories if they so desired. The two physicians who are doing the work refused to discuss it without permission from the Kenan family.

Dr. William, Guilfoy, registrar of records of the Department of Health, said it was a mistake to suppose a permit was necessary for such work.

Manufacturers also believe that a price will probably be named for scrap, which is an important item in the steel business.

"While the prices fixed are the same for the private consumer, the mills will, of course, have to give priority to the Government's orders. As far as I know outstanding contracts will not be disturbed by the present action."

The prices announced yesterday are expected to be followed shortly with an announcement relative to the prices for billets and blooms so that those companies which purchase billets and blooms and then make the finiahed product will know where they stand.

May Fix Scrap Prices.

While the prices were from 40 to 70 per cent, under those prevailing at this time they are well above the highest that ever prevailed prior to the war.

The manufacturers were somewhat surprised that the same price will apply to purchases by the Allies and private consumers, but they are practically unanimous in declaring that they will abide by the decision of the Government and go ahead full speed in an effort to win the war and win it quickly.

In steel circles it is understood that the prices decided upon by the War Industries Board were higher than those actually announced, but that President Wilson personally shaved them. How much they were "blue pencilled" by the President could not be learned.
